

Product Overview: Early English Books Online (EEBO)

Product Overview: Early English Books Online (EEBO)

Digitized directly from the UMI Early English Books microform, Early English Books Online™(EEBO) presents over 125,000 literary and historical classics as they appeared in their original format. Users can see the first printed edition of the Canterbury Tales or view Galileo's telescopic discoveries.

Now in electronic format, this vast body of retrospective material can be searched quickly by a broad base of users, from undergraduates to scholars. Early English Books Online (EEBO) contains over 22 million digital images of virtually every work printed in the English language as well as works printed in Great Britain and its dependencies from 1473-1700 in any language.

Works are drawn from these exhaustive bibliographies and collections of the period:

- The Short-Title Catalogue I (Pollard & Redgrave, 1475 - 1640)
- The Short-Title Catalogue II (Wing, 1641 - 1700)
- The Thomason Tracts, a compendium of broadsides on the English Civil War printed between 1640 and 1661
- The Early English Books Tract Supplements

Included in EEBO are works by Shakespeare, Malory, Spenser, Bacon, More, Erasmus, Boyle, Newton, and Galileo; musical exercises by Henry Purcell; novels by Aphra Behn; and prayer books, pamphlets, proclamations, almanacs, calendars, and other primary resources. It opens new avenues for research in a variety of academic disciplines including Literature, History, Politics, Philosophy, Linguistics, Music, Fine Arts, Education, Mathematics, and the Sciences.

Administration / Setup

Access the Information Resources page within EEBO to find instructions for obtaining:

Usage Reports, MARC Records, Open URL Linking, Permission to Reproduce EEBO Images, Citing Instructions, ASCII Full Text Access, and a Quarterly Product Newsletter.

Where to Find Help

- Web training
Register for a free-one hour class with our professional trainers: www.il.proquest.com/pqtraining
- Search Assistance, Technical Support
Phone: 800-889-3358
Email: tsupport@il.proquest.com
Web: <http://proquest.com/techsupport>